THE CHINA MAIL.

HONGKONG, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 23, 1869.

THE HONGKONG ASSOCIATION.

Readers given to perusing the fascicles which form the padding of weekly papers will probably recollect an old but humorous "Joe Miller" regarding a difference of opinion between a sea-captain and his mate. "Go forward and attend to your duty, Sir; do what you like with your part of the ship, but don't come interfering aft," was the excited skipper's injudicious termination to an adverse speech, acted upon but too literally by the waggish subordinate, who shortly returned with the information that he had "anchored his part of the ship and would like to know what the Captain intended doing with his." The "Hongkong Association" strikingly reminds us of the intelligent officer in question, the more so as we credit its Committee and Secretary with a full sense of the absurd situation in which it has placed itself. It has "anchored its part of the ship," and is quite indignant at what may be done with the rest of the hull. The simile we have used is but too apt in its application to Hongkong, in its connection with the rest of China. At the only British Colony upon the outskirts of this Empire as the headquarters of British trade—for its character as a depot strengthens its status in this respect when politics are in question—as the main terminus of the line steamers which connect China with Europe and Australia, and important from its mere geographical position which permits the compilation of exhaustive news summaries embracing the events of the fortnight at every open port in China and Japan—Hongkong is to British interests in the far East what the bows of a ship are to its hull generally.

Living under British rule and in closer proximity to home than any other colony in China, the progress of our Colonists means the progress of British interests generally. That they have wilfully thrown away the chance of directing public opinion at home upon China affairs does not, however, deprive them of the fact. That the laziness of, or peculiar political opinions entertained by, the majority have seriously interfered with the better protection of those interests, finally resulting in the adoption of a policy, suicidal with any Asiatic nation but doubly so in China, must be acknowledged by all in whom purely selfish considerations are supplemented by any spark of public feeling.

It will be somewhat interesting to ascertain at what point the Association drew the line between "matters purely local" and "Imperial policy in China generally." The Hon. Secretary in his letter to our contemporary refers to the Military Contribution as a tax the removal of which must yet be striven for.

But we would ask him and the Committee if that is a purely local matter? He asserts that "the troops are required not for Colonial but for Imperial purposes alone." This can only mean "for the preservation of proper relations with China generally," in which case it is fair to assume that injury to those relations at the open ports would ensue upon those troops being removed. Now assuming that the arguments used had prevailed and the home government had in consequence withdrawn the troops, would not

"Imperial interests" have been affected?

We merely use this argument to show that even in a matter which the Committee would have us believe is exclusively local it is impossible to divest it of an "Imperial" aspect. But to take the converse case and say that the safety of British subjects at Formosa or Swatow does not in any way affect local interests, is yet more absurd. So long as our relations with China continue and so long as Hongkong continues to be the head quarters of British influence as regards mercantile affairs, the intimate relation between it and the ports cannot be severed—even by the logic of the Association.

 That, sapient body, has done nothing, (except subject us to the ridicule of people at home), and declares that it will do nothing except anchoring itself in the fairway of progress. People of confiding minds thought that it was instituted to supply a want of action in great public questions on the part of the Chamber of Commerce. And now it coolly tells us that the discussion of such matters devolves upon the Chamber, the Association being for local purposes only. In our last Over- land edition, we stated that it appeared to be dead. We see no cause to alter or modify that opinion, and while acknowledging that the Secretary has done his best to bring important questions before the committee, must express our conviction that the contempt with which the London Association has treated them is most fully merited.

LOCAL.

Tax following items are from the Strait

Times of 14th inst.:

We learn that Colonel Macpherson, by the Mail which arrived yesterday (June 9), has received his promotion to Lieutenant-Governor of the Colony, which places him next in rank to the Governor. We perceive by the hon. paper received by the same mail, that his Excellency Sir Harry Duff has been permitted to retire from the Army on full pay as a Lieut.

Colonel, with the honorary rank of Major-General.

A Marine Court of Enquiry was held yesterday, June 10th, at the Master At-tendant's Office, respecting the loss of the British barque Coral Nymph, in Gaspar Strait, on the 19th May last. After several witnesses had been examined, the Court acquitted Captain Winchester of all blame, and returned him his Certificate.

TO-DAY'S POLICE.

Both Magistrates sat, and one or two cases of some interest were heard and disposed of.

The remanded case relating to coining, was closed by Mr. May, Mr. Asst. Supt.

Quinn, who had the conduct of this case, stated that he had found in the bungalow at Fokfok (which he had searched under a warrant) a number of dollars, ten of which were found to be bad Mexicans, supposed to have been brought from Canton. Some steel chips were found, impressions of which were visible on some of the dollars.

Of the eight prisoners originally apprehended in the house, only two were convicted.

The first man was fined in the sum of $10 for each counterfeit dollar, viz. $100, in default three months' hard labor; and the second defendant was ordered to find security for three months in $25.

Five coolies were charged with the unlawful possession of a box of muskets, found in their house at West Point, and which they could not satisfactorily account for.

The fact of possession was attempted to be attributed to the people of the Ying Fat shop. Three of the men were discharged, and the other two were bailed in $50 each to appear again.

Mr. Richard Ramsey, engineer of the Ganges, was up on a summons at the instance of LO KIN, a picture seller, in that he unlawfully assaulted the same and cut off a portion of his queue. The assault was committed on board the steamer, when complaint was called for payment of a bill; and the complaint was tied by the queue to the stair, after having waited half an hour for his money unsuccessfully. $5 were offered as amends, and refused. Defendant admitted the commission of the offence, and he was sorry, but said that defendant had agreed to settle it for $5. Mr. Russell fined defendant $25, and the $5 as amends; in default, one month's imprisonment.

Four Chinese were committed to the Supreme Court for a robbery of four tubs of oil which was somewhat cleverly effected from a Chinese long on the morning of the 21st. Fong Ahong, master of the Chee Cheung oil store, has two stores, one in Wington Street and another in Fray's

Central, and the robbery of the Fray's store was reported to him while he was in his Wington Street shop. After vigorous search the tubs were found in a shop called the Shing Loong, at Bowington, the master of which shop is one of the committed prisoners. Another of the prisoners is connected with the Ying Fat long (an establishment referred to in the musket case, which is said to be a marine store, but may be something else). Distinguishing marks were looked for on the oil-tubs, but they were found to have been carefully scrapped off. Evidence was produced to show that the tubs when stolen were quietly put on board a sampan and taken to Bow-ington, then to the Macao Steamer (probably as a blind) and again back to Bow-ington, to the Shing Loong shop. The first prisoner's defence was that some one connected with the invisible Ying Fat had sent the oil to the shop. But the Shing Loong man threw the blame entirely upon the first prisoner, who, he said, brought the oil for sale on commission. Four were committed for trial, and the two who were released on $25 security were not head-men in the bold theft.

ARRIVAL OF THE MAIL.

The M. I. steamer Combedge, Captain

De la Beaulieu, with the Marseilles Mail of the 15th ultimo, arrived at Noon.

The following are the latest Telegrams dated London:—

26th May.—Advices from Paris announce the termination of the elections. Two hundred and ninety returns have been made. The Opposition has gained four seats. Fifty-nine seats are still to be decided by ballot. The Orleansists have generally been beaten. Considerable disturbances occurred in various parts of the country, but nowhere of a serious nature.

Baron Leassps was beaten at the Marseille election. M. Thiers and M. Jules Favre are not returned. At a great banquet at St. Petersburg, Kaufmann said that the days of conquest by Russia in Central Asia had passed, that those of peace had commenced. He would give no contradictions concerning the War at Bokhara, because the war was not provoked by Russia, but the necessity of defence against the hostility of the Ameer.

27th May.—The Liverpool Cotton Market closed improving. Reserve of Notes in the Bank of England £3,125,000. Total Bullion £17,375,000.

 colonists to protect themselves. Rebellion has broken out at Kiriz against Russia.
 Several thousand Cossacks have joined Garibon. Orenburg is marching against them. The Liverpool Cotton Market closed very firm. 7 lbs. Shipping the formal promulgation of the Spanish Constitution. La France states that Queen Isabella has, after deliberation, declared that she will not abdicate in favour of the Prince of Asturias. Telegrams from France state that serious disturbances have taken place in Lyons, Lille, and Toulouse. An official journal contradicts the statement of the Moniteur that arrangements have been made between France and Italy for the evacuation of Rome in September.

31st May.—Mr. Motley, the American Ambassador, in replying to an address from the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce, said that the most earnest hope and wish of the President and people of the United States, to cultivate friendly and relations between England and America.
 The advancement of civilization was dependent on the maintenance of such relations between all nations, but more especially between England and America.
 His most strenuous efforts would be devoted to the maintenance of kindly relations between both countries, founded on the principles of reason, justice, and honor, which are necessary for conducting the affairs of nations as of individuals.
 2nd June.—The House of Commons reassembled on Saturday. Mr. Gladstone's Irish Church Bill was read a first time in the House of Lords last night. The second reading has been fixed for the 14th inst.
 Mr. Irving has been gazetted Colonial Secretary of Ceylon. A suitable reception will be given to the Viceroy of Egypt on the occasion of his visit to England.
